Report of the City's Receipts and Disbursements.

MONEY SPENT ON STREETS

Much Work Done Which Should Have Been Accomplished in Previous Years A Big Falling Off in Collection of Licenses.

The report of the city's receipts and disbursements during the first half year of the present administration, as presented to the council by City Clerk Holland, has been the occasion of some criticisms on the part of a local paper which comments on the fact that there has been an increase in the expendi-tures while the receipts have fallen off. Mayor Harrington said yesterday in regard to the report and the criticism

"The report was presented for the purpose of inviting criticism. We want the public to know exactly what we are doing with their money and we have nothing to conceal and nothing to apologize for.

The democratic party, in its city convention last spring, promised the people that they would clean up the streetsthat they would clean up the streets—that they would as far as possible get rid of the mud which had rendered Butte's streets at times almost impassable during the preceding administration. We have tried to clean up the streets and to put them in such a condition that the mud will not be such a nuisance again. ance again.
"About all the increase in the expenditures of the present administration over the preceding administration has been in the street and alley department. The increase there is about $19,000. But that money, I contend, has been well ex-pended. We have not been extravagant but believe the people want a progressive rather than a niggardly administration and will not object to the increased cost so long as the city has been improved. There was not a gutter in any of the outside streets last spring. We have spent much money in putting in gutters and in changing cross walks gutters and in changing cross walks so that water can run freely along the gutters instead of being stopped by the cross walks. The principal expense has been in making Arizona and Montana streets good thoroughfares. These two streets are used more than any other two streets in the city. I have been criticised because this work has been criticised because this work has been paid for by the city in general instead of being charged up to the property on the streets. But I consider that these streets are general thoroughfares. Arizona street is the avenue for traffic to the passenger and freight depots. Last spring it was for a time impassable to spring it was for a time impassable to heavy traffic on account of the mud. Visitors in getting off the cars at the depots could not have a very favorable idea of Butte when they would find themselves surrounded by a sea of mud. We have macadamized Arizona street and believe the money has been well expended. It is of benefit to all the people to have a good street to the depots.

"Next to the macadamizing of Aricona street the greatest expense has been in making a street out of Montana street. This I consider to be also a public street. All the funerals pass down Main street to the cemeteries. It is not pleasant for the vehicles to move nearly up to their hubs in mud. We have made of Montana street as good a street perhaps as the state can show. We believe the money expended on Montana street has been well expended, that it is a general benefit, and that the people will not begrudge the money it has cost. "Practically no work was done on the possible condition. Had a fair amount of money been expended last year in improving the streets, it would not have been necessary to expend as much this tend to the advancement and prosper-ity of Butte. Where we have graded and improved streets, put in sidewalks, extended water mains and put in are lights, there has immediately followed a building boom in those localities. Look at all the building on lower Montana street since we made it a street. "There has been an increase of about $500 in the cost of lighting. People have petitioned for arc lights and we have put them in where they were necessary. The city is growing and it must be expected that more arc lights would be used as the city grows.

"There has been a small increase in the expenditures of the health depart-ment. That is accounted for by the expense of moving the crematory to a place farther from the city and to the enlarging of the crematory and putting up new buildings.

"That part of the criticisms which is just is that which calls attention to the fact that the city's receipts from li-censes and collections have fallen off. That is true and there is no good rea-son for it. Instead of these receipts be-ing $10,000 less than during the corresponding period of last year, they should have been $10,000 greater. The ciy is larger, more people are in busi-ness, and the city's receipts from licenses should certainly have increased. I was well aware of this falling off in

I was well aware of this failing off in receipts and tried to correct it, but got licked for my pains. I had hoped that the council would take some measures to bring the license collections up to what they should be, and that was one reason why I had the report prepared and presented to the council.

"The criticism is made that the expense for salaries is much larger than last year. That is an unjust criticism. For some reason under the preceding administration the salaries of six officials, including the sanitary inspector, the court officer and the assistant city the court officer and the assistant city treasurer were paid out of the general fund instead of out of the salary fund.

A dashing blonde, gorgeously attired A dashing blonde, gorgeously attired and supporting a court plaster "shanty" over one eye, sat in the midst of a coterie of three or four other Galena street women in the police court yesterday afternoon and listened to some testimony so salacious that it made even the policemen blush, and although it did not appear to phase the soiled doves, the words used sounded pretty tough to be speaken in the presence of doves, the words used sounded pretty tough to be spoken in the presence of women, no matter of what character. It was the case in which Nicholas Francis, proprietor of the Copper block, at the corner of Galena and Wyoming streets, whose name in the complaint is J. J. Smith, was being prosecuted for assault for striking a woman named Gertie Woods a vicious blow in the face a few nights ago without, it is alleged, any provocation. The complaining wit-Pherson went to her home with a few nights ago without, it is alleged, any provocation. The complaining witness and Stella Munroe and Annie Stephens all testified that Francis was drunk at the time the assault occurred and meeting the Woods woman, who said good evening, he turned and deliberately struck her in the face with his left hand, upon one of the fingers of which he wore a ring, which cut a deep permitted to have the child, and promised to give it a good home. which he wore a ring, which cut a deep gash in her forehead. Butte Policemen Arrest Men for "Abus ing an Officer."

Some of the members of Butte's police force have very tender feelings. Frequently men have been arrested and booked at the police station for "abus-ing an officer" only to be discharged upon appearing before the police mag-istrate when it would generally be learned that the offense consisted of the defendant calling the officer some unpleasant name, and it would be clear the arrest was simply because the officer had the authority, Such an incident occurred a couple or three nights ago when Attorney Miles Cavanaugh was taken to the station for giving an officer his opinion of him in rather strong terms, being dis-charged by Judge Ferrell, and last evening another man was locked up for showing his dislike for a policeman. Bob Simpson, the man who got into much trouble recently through an infatuation for his niece, acquired a dislike for Officer Rocheleau, who ar-rested him a short time ago for assault on his niece. When Simpson was acquitted by a jury he started in to annoy Rocheleau by making faces at him and every time the two have met since Simpson has continued to cut up deriputting his thumb to his nose and wiggling his fingers schoolboy fashion Rocheleau stood it until Simpson repeated the operation before witnesses, when he was promptly arrested and taken to the county jail on a charge of vagrancy. It is said the charge was based on Simpson's having informed the officer that he was not working and would not work if he did not want to.
